

第1問 (配点 6)

You are exchanging text messages with your friends about next month's stay at your vacation home.

Mark

Hi, Ken. We're excited about staying there next month. How should we divide the rooms? And is there something fun we can all do together?

You

Hi, Mark. I'm looking forward to it, too! Well, there are two bedrooms. One is right next to the living room, and you can enter it directly from there. That makes it very convenient. And there's a popular tourist spot nearby with a beautiful view. We could go there together.

Yumi

That sounds like a nice bedroom. But I go to bed early, so I'd prefer one that's away from the living room where everyone will be gathering.

You

No worries. Then you and Sara should take the other bedroom. It should be quieter. It doesn't share any walls with the other rooms.

Sara

That'll be great for Yumi. By the way, how is the kitchen? I think it would be fun if we could make dinner together.

You

The kitchen is connected to the living room. It's big enough for the four of us to prepare food.

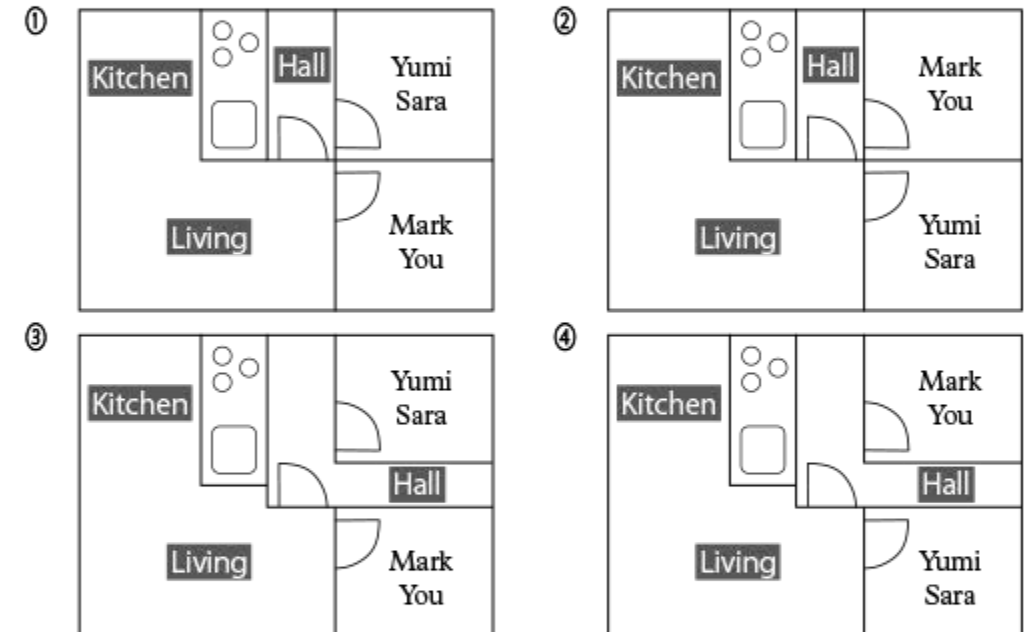

Yumi

Perfect. Let's think about what we want to make, and we'll talk about the details later! I'll be driving, so I can buy food on the way.
